

Dryad's Saddle Cerioporus squamosus

Traits: cap up to 25 cm wide, depressed above the stem, beige covered with brown scales; irregular cream spores, descending on stem; white stem up to 4 cm long, blackening at base

When: abundant, isolated April → Oct.

Where: on living or dead deciduous trees

Note: edible young, chewy, hardening with time

